A Chance for Any Boy to Get a Start in the erchant Marine - Mysterious Nautical Accomplishments Acquired—The Food Too Sallerlike for Many of the Lads-Most Them Get Enough of Scafaring Life.

first street is the good ship St. Mary's, There she will remain till May next, when she will weigh anchor and sail away to Lisbon, Funchal in the Madeiras and Teneriffe in the Canary Islands. with her lively embryo seamen in the full glory of realisation of their boyish dreams. The St.
Mary's is the New York Nautical School. full glory of realiza-

East River off Thirty-

which is maintained by an annual appropriation from the Board of Education. On board are now fifty-eight young tars, who have made one trip across the "briny." When, she casts off her moorings next spring there will be an addition of thirty or forty landlubbers and dock sailors, who will lead a dreary life alongside the old salts who have one cruise.

sailed one cruise.

The St. Mary's is an old sloop of war provided by the Government, and has been in this service about fifteen years. She is a nautical school wherein young America who has read the fascinating sea stories of Oliver Optic or Capt. Marryat may speedily get his thirst for salt water and desire for a sea life appeased, and more, with little cost and no worriment to parents.

iffe appeased, and more, with little cost and no worriment to parents.

The Government has provided a Naval Academy at Annapolis, at which youths are trained for the naval service, but here applicants for admission must have a "pull" with some Congressman or be bright enough to win a competitive examination. The St. Mary's is intended for fitting boys for the merchant service and any vocunes when Mary's is intended for fitting boys for the merchant service, and any youngster who is over fifteen and not yet twenty, and is morally and physically sound, who can obtain the consent of his parents or guardian and bring on board two pairs of boots, three towels, three pairs of heavy socks, three suits of heavy underelothing and three handkerchiefs, may, by depositing $35 with Capt. Crowninshield, the commander of the ship, join the school and in two years be graduated a full-fledged sailor before the mast. If he is particularly bright the graduate may then be able to ship as third mate on a merchant ship.

on fulfilling all the preliminary requirements the youngster will be given a natty dress suit of blue, consisting of the open, loose-throated shirt, wide-bottomed trousers on much coveted by leose-throated shirt, while-bottomed trousers and flat, visorless cap so much coveted by the would-be sca-farin' man. This he may wear on Saturdays and Sundays, if he is not "quarantined" for "skylarking," failure in his lessons, insubordination, disrespect to his superiors or other error. Thus attired he may, if in port, bowl about the streets, parade himself before admiring young friends and family, and stand with feet wide spart at his mother's hearth. His liberty in port may extend from Saturday morning at 9 o'clock till Monday at the same hour.

Besides this dress suit, he will get two suits of white canvas, blankets for his hammock and other necessaries of a sailor.

The $85 deposit pays for his keep and for tuition for two years in reading, writing,

The $85 deposit pays for his keep and for tuition for two years in reading, writing, arithmetic, grammar, geography, history and mavigation, practical and theoretical.

The lads are spared no detail of the life which they propose to fit for. There are seven sailors on the schoolship, cooks, an engineer and other men to the number of twenty, besides the tutors and officers, but the boys themselves perform much of the work of handling the ship, and at noon of each day, they "go over the masthead," which means that they go through the work of furling and reefing and staying the sails and performing unheard-of other things with the "starboard foretopgallant studding sail-boom-tricing-line-block-strap-thimble seizing," and other parts of the ship gear unexplainable to a landsman. Each lad has his watch, his mess and his class in the school. The lads go up 110 feet from the deck each day.

An "ordinary seamen," gradveted last

The lads go up 110 feet from the deck each day.

An "ordinary seaman," graduated last month, said he had learned all about what was "for'a'd on the sta'b'd side, aft on the port side" and what was "inside on the outside." He knew how to pass a nipper, or clap on a jigger; how to choke a luff, or snake the backstays; fleet a purchase, or crown a crotch rope; make a gourmet or an artificial eye; make a Spanish fox, or a Turk's head; what was meant by a withe, a gammoning, a cat's paw, a sheep's shank, an Irish splice, the whiskers, the jumpers and a ringtail; which were the moon sails, star gazers, heaven disturbers and other sails; how to hitch, bend, clinch and cackle.

In fact he knew every inch of his ship, and

In fact he knew every inch of his ship, and rattled off at a steam-engine pace about everything in the ship's economy. The boys sverything in the ship's economy. The boys peeled the "spuds" themselves and had "salt horse" and "duff" till they sighed, and some of them cried for the good old fare they had had at home. The big beams high up and crosswise of the masts were the "crojecks," cross-jacks wouldn't be nautical: studdingsail was altogether too dignified and "stuns"!! "did instead.

"We had school in the little house on deck from 9 till 4 o'clock five days in the week, with two hours out at noon for mess, masthead and play," said the graduate. "We got up at 6 in the morning, washed, dressed and stayed our hammonks in ten minutes; cook's below at 6.10, breakfast, 6.30; had an hour for play or a smoke, an hour for work and then school. Dinner at 12.30, supper at 6, and lights out and all abed at 8.30,"

MR. VANDERBILT'S BAGPIPER.

The reporter asked about the fare, and the old salt replied: "If it wasn't for the grub, If all its to go on another cruise. But we get

The reporter asked about the fare, and the old salt replied: "If it wasn't for the grub. I'd like to go on another cruise. But we get salt horse all the time, the rice is cooked as as hard as a brick; the bread is hard tack of of the hardest kind; the plum duff is fit for pavements, and the butter is strong enough to walk off the table."

Plum duff, the reporter learned, is a paste made of flour, water and dried apples, and is boiled. On close questioning, the graduate said: "We kicked on the duff, and they gave us beans instead, and the beans were always good. Our duff bags were called in. Some of the salt beef was very bad. It smelt bad, and we went to Lieut. Fields, who is in charge of us, and he examined it, and seven barrels of the stuff were heaved overboard. The butter was not very bad when we left New York, but the changes in climate spoil it, and we couldn't eat it toward the last."

Lieut, Wells Fields said, when this conversation was related to him: "That is just it.

Lieut. Wells Fields said, when this conversation was related to him: "That is just it. These boys are anxious to become sailors. We promise to teach them all there is about the life they think they want to follow. Therefore we feed them exactly as sailors are fed, only, perhaps, a little better. Of course we can keep no ice on board and the butter loses its character. The rations are the best to be had in ship stores. Sait horse and rice three times a week; coffee once each day; sait meat, hash, hominy and oatmeal alternately; pea soup, bean soup, Irish stews of canned fresh meats and other changes are made as often as practicable. We officers eat the same rations. If we fed them better and they fared better in other ways, afterwards, when they had shipped on a merchantman, they would complain justly that we had cruelly misled them."

"Fact is," said the recent graduate, "most of the boys are cured of their hankering for the sea after a cruise or two. Out of twenty-six of my class, only six of us are going to follow the sea. Then there are always lots of the boys who quit after the first cruise on the school-ship. You see, they can go at any time if they obtain the consent of their folks, and if they can't, they can run away from the ship. It isn't like the naval academy. Nobody ever tries to find the runaways. They go off Saturday or Sunday and never come back. That's the end of it. If they don't want to stop they can say they won't, and the captain will let them go. All they have to do is to leave their sailor rig."

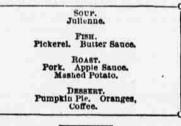

During play hours the lads lounge about the gundeck, where rest the cannon which have been silent and only useful for object teaching for fifteen years, and smoke cigarettes or pipes like veteran tars, spin yarns and "put up jobs" on the "new boy." The new boy is of course sent to the captain for permission to use the billiard table, to get a hammock lantern, to get his shoes cobbled, and on other "funny" errands.

The best good that the school does, however, is to disenchant New York youth of th impetuous and unreasoning desire to become sailors.

A DOLLAR DINNER FOR FOUR.

Contributed Daily to "The World" by One of the Best Known City Chefs. At to-day's market prices the material for this dinner can be purchased fot $1.

Dainties of the Market.

Prime rib rosat, 18c. to 20c. Lobaters, 8c, to 10c.
Porterbouse steak, 25c.
Sirloin steak, 16c. to 20c.
Leg mutton, 14c. to 16c.
Leg mutton, 14c. to 16c.
Leg rest, 20c.
Salmon trout, 12c. Sirioin steak, 16c. to 20c. Leg mutton, 14c. to 16c. Leg mutton, 14c. to 16c. Leg mutton, 14c. to 16c. Leg real, 20c. English mutton chops, 25c. Leg real, 20c. English mutton chops, 25c. Lamb hindy tere, 12c. to 16c. Lamb hindy tere, 12c. to 16c. Yeal cutlets, 28c. Sweetbreads, 26 per desen. Calves' heads, 50c. to 60c. Roasting pig. 23.50 each, Roasting turkeys, 14c. to 18c. Squabs, 23.50 to 23c. Striped bass, 10c. to 15c. Squabs, 23.50 to 23c. Sheepshead, 20c. to 25c. Little-neck clams, 40c. to 25c. Canvassbacks, 23.50 pair. For 12c. to 25c. Little-neck clams, 40c. to 2

Naturally. "Come, now, Master Tommy! when mamma gives you a real nice piece of cake, what do you say?"

Please, mamma, give me some more."

A Perfect Cure. October 28, 1886. Mesers. W. B. RIKER & SON.

GENTLEMEN: For the last five or six months I have been suffering from a severe affection of the chees, accumpanied by a most Districts and the companied by a most Districts of Could find NO RELIEF. Nothing seemed to help me until I tried one bottle of four "RIKER'S EXPECTORANT," and that has effected a PERFECT CURE and I feel like a new person, I must highly commend your EXPECTORANT and the control with palmonary trymble and trust this may induce other sufferers to try and ES CURED.

I remain, vesy truly yours,

MARGARET F. KELLY.

187 Rose street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ENGAGEMENT.

And by that time all their little world knew that Rose Lealie was engaged to Midshipman Hope.

ND you will wait for me until my fortune is made? You won't let so me other fellow carry you off while I am upon the sea? It's a great deal for a girl to promise, but a lover is selfish, Rosebud."

He put his arm about her sa he spoke, this lover, whose name was Harry Hope; and Rose Leslie looked up into his face confidingly.

Wait? Why, it seemed to her, in that girlhood, that there was, since he had told her. She knew that whenever his wife she would give had made and could not become entangled, that the was a very sure that he scarcely confessed to himself, to from her to say so. Her conduct, what she might tight do, was a very site the was at home and these things would now as the put his arm and the manner and the manner and the searcely confessed to himself, that the every had not enough to marry upon. He had earlier was no marry into sea married man and these things would be seemed to her, in that girlhood, that there was, since he had told her. She knew that whenever this wife she would give had made a strip thought the tries would come in which he should be married man and these things would be seemed to her, in that girlhood, that there was the manner about them. And in the years that followed I suppose he could not have counted the kisses he gave. The fact that he was engaged to the dearest private was a mander to the world and wore her picture near his pharmache. He was an under the manner about them. And in the years that followed I suppose he could not have counted the kisses he gave. The fact that he was engaged to the devoted here said the other girls were for manner about them. And in the years that for the world and work here is the world and work here. He would be a married man and these things would be tree to the world and world have acted to himself.

When he was at home and with Rose he had not leave the was an unider current that he scarcely confessed to himself. When he was a very

THREE HOURS TOO LATE.

Her Laggard Lover.

The Revival of the Minuet.

[From the Chicago Pribune.]
"There is no doubt," said a charming society

astron who had recently returned from Paris,

'that something has got to be done if dancing is to hold its popularity. I became quite interested in the subject while in Paris. The matter there is ex-city a great deal of interest, and there is serious talk of reviving the old minuet. How much more attractive a bail-room would be with the minnet attractive a bail-room would be with the minuet, the pavonne and the gavoite, instead of the helter-skelter waitz and galop. A few years ago the Frincess de Sagan introduced the bourrée at one of her bails. This is a village dance, and the sight of eight pretty women and as many haussome men clattering about in sabots, dressed in village costume, must have been rather a novel one. I wouldn't advocate such an innovation as that, but I would like to see the minuet revived. You remember the story of Marguerite de Bourgoyne, who was forgiven for her horrible crimes because she ber the story of Marguerite de Bourgoyne, who was forgiven for her horrible crimes because she danced the minuet better than anyone in the world. No one would do as much as that for a pretty waltzer, even if she was capable of ethereal-izing the waltz. The minuet is a charming com-bination of graceful stateliness and coquettish-ness."

Girls Have a Bonbon Spoon Now.

[From the Chicago Herald.]
The fad of the season is bonbon spoons. A bon-on spoon affects the antique. It has a large round powl and a large, expanded and quaintly fashoned top, with a ring in the bandle, after the style of the days when the mistress of the house wore her spoon hanging at her girdle to taste the soup for the family meal while it was cooking. Many of them are exact reproductions of old English spoons, wrought in antique sliver, and with the wealth of curious detail work expended on them the boulous poons cost a modern lady of the brownstone front anywhere from $10 to $50 or $100.

Two Ways of Woolng.

[From the Pitteburg Past.]
In the Philippine Islands, when a man wishes to marry, the parents of the girl send her out in the doesn't find her the marriage is off. They reverse the order down in many of the cotton-spinning towns of New Engladd. The men are so scarce there that the girls spend years in hunting them, and are still on the hunt.

New Things in Silver Decoration.

(From an Exchange.)

roods before sunrise and let him hunt her. If he

How a Pair Young Fiorida Maiden Punished THE QUESTION BROUGHT UP WHETHER HE [From the Enterprise (Fla.) Herald,1 Enterprise and vicinity was set all agog on

CAN BE ALLOWED TO LAND. Thursday morning by the announcement that a ong expected wedding, which was to have If the Law Shuts Out Clergymen and Farm occurred at Saulsville, a few miles east of this ers May He Not be Sent Back !- Possibl place, at 6.80 a. M., had been declared off by the Dimentities in the Way of a Craze for betrothed lady. Mr. Harry Rhoades, formerly of this place, late of Titusville, and Miss Charlotte Officials and Experts-What the Law Says Sauls, of Saulsville, were the parties who intended that their lives should be a "link of sweetness that their lives should be a "link of sweetness long drawn out," but the fates decreed otherwise. All nature smiled on this auspicious morning, and that any man, when his life was to be gladdened, should fail to appear on time and claim the lady whom he had wood and won with the ardor that belongs to youth, is beyond the comprehension of all except probably himself.

At 6.30 A. M. the bright sun'rose upon the assembled weedding guests, the minister was at hand and the expectant lady, who was to take upon herself the vows "till death do us part," awaited in her boudoir the coming of her Romeo. The minutes field and still he came not, and the wedding guests poasessed themseives of that unexistiness which is the forerunner of disappointment, while the love of the fair lady turned to anger. At last the one who was to have east her lot with a man of unfaithful promises, appeared upon the scene, and with a seat nell face. DMUND YATES is responsible for the announcement that Mr.

William K. Vanderbilt has been charmed by a Scottish bagpiper in the land o' cakes, and will bring him to New York with him on his return. In short, Mr. Vanderbilt proposes to set a new fashion in set a new fashion in music and introduces the bagpipes into America as a popular musical instrument. And this gives rise to much curious specular position of the perculiar po tion. In view of the peculiar position of the Rev. Mr. Warren, the return of the Scotch farmer to England last spring by order of Collector Magone because he came to America by contract, and the other enforcements of the Contract Emigration law, it is a nice question whether Mr. Vanderbilt's bagpiper may not be refused landing here.

Mr. Vanderbilt is not expected to return before the robins nest again, however, and meantime the people of America who read the fashion papers are kept in anxious sus-Pense.

Chapter 163 of the United States Statutes of 1885 provides that it shall be unlawful for any person, company, partnership, or corporation, in any manner whatsoever, to prepay the transportation, or assist, or encourage the importation or immigration of an alien or foreigner to perform labor of any kind in the United States.

United States.

That all contracts or agreements, express or implied, parole or special, between any person, &c., and any foreigner to perform labor or service of any kind made previous to immigration shall be utterly void and of no effect effect.

Violation of this statute is subject to punishment of $1,000 fine for each offense and six months' imprisonment, and the foreigner with whom the contract is made may bring suit and recover damages on such This act, however, excepts personal serv-

This act, however, excepts personal servants, professional actors, artists, lecturers, or singers and any member of the family of the American party to the contract. Skilled labor may be contracted for in a foreign country, the laborer to migrate to America, provided only that such skilled labor cannot be obtained here; and foreigners may be contracted for on this side to introduce or establish new kinds of industry not known here.

The Caledonian Club, which numbers several pipers in its membership, will take no steps to stop the new-comer from landing, and the Carl Sahm Society is indifferent to the company of the no steps to stop the new-confer ring, and the Carl Sahm Society is indifferent to his coming, believing that the pipers can never supplant musicians in New York.

Even Mr. John S. Kennedy, whose perseverance in the attempt to enforce the law in the case of Rev. E. Walpole Warren, the imported pastor of the Church of the Holy Trinity, says he has demonstrated to an enlightened country how senseless is this law, and he will place no barriers in the way of Mr. Vanderbilt's piper or of the new pastor of Plymouth Church. of Plymouth Church.

of Plymouth Church.

Collector Magone will act in accordance with the facts reported to him by the Emigration Commissioners, and if they say Sandy has come over by contract, back he will go, unless he can be shown to be one of the excepted,

Superintendent Jackson of Castle Garden shows that he is tired of the attempts to enforce the law, and refers the reporter to Interpreters P. Groth and Antonio Caffero.

western river pearls, but others are extremely valuable. They are taken without poishing and chosen according to the shape of the articles. The part and from the petty annoyances to which less fortunate passengers are subjected.

Linited States District Attorney Walker conducts his office with judicial fairness, and Mr. Vanderbilt is considered to be only an equal with the Kentucky lawyer who contracted with a Scotch farmer to come on and run his farm. If the case of the piper is parallel to that of the importer to account under the penal section of the law.

Talk Heard At a Church Walker

Talk Heard At a Church

Everybody. — They say he's

[From Daughters of America.]

got an awful temper.
almost constantly into xicated.
lost all his money.
some relation to Lady Simmery Axe,
been engaged nine times.
jour wives living.
worth a million,
dead broke.

fillted a French count, never had an offer before, acted like a fool, crazy about Charley, dreadfully extravagant. And she's meaner than the meanest. done all the love-making, over thirty.

And all Scaly and Itching Skin and Scalp Diseases cured by Cuticura. Psoriasis, Ecsems, Totter, Ringworm, Lichen, Pruritus, Scali Head, Milk Crust, Dandruff, Barbers', Bakers', Gruceus' and Wesherwoman's lich, and every species of Rehine, Running, Rosty, Pimply Humors of the Skin and Nosip, with Least I thir, are instantly reserved and speedig ound by Curtcura, the great Skin Gura, and Curtcura State, an enguistic Skin Boatthier education, and Curtcura Resolvent in the new Blood Puritier, Internally, when physicians and all other remedies fail.

PSORIASIS, OR SCALY SKIN.

oaly Skin, in eight days, after the doctors with whom ad consulted gave me no help or encouragement. Newron, N. J. JOHN J. CASE, D. D. S.

DISTRESSING ERUPTION. Your OUTIOURA REMEDIES performed a wo last summer on one of our customers, an old gentleman is seventy years of age, who suffered with a fearfully distributed are required in the self and the self are considered and dectors to no purpose.

TEXABLESA, ARE.

DUSTPANFUL OF SCALES.

H. E. Carpenter, Honderson, N. Y., cured of Psoria-sis or Leprosy, of twenty years' standing, by CUTICUMA REMEDIES. The most wonderful cure on record. A dustpantul of scales feel from him daily. Physicians and his friends thought he must die.

ECZEMA RADICALLY CURED.

For the radical cure of an obstinate case of Ecsema of long standing, I give entire credit to the CUTICURA REMEDIES.
E. B. RICHARDSON, New Haven, Conn.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.: SOAF, 25c.: RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO. Roston, Mass.

EF Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases," 64 pages, 50 illustrations, and 100 testimonials. PIMPLES, black-heads, chapped and oily skin prevented by CUTICURA MEDICATED SOAP.

OLD FOLKS' PAINS. Full of comfort for all Pains, Inflamma-tion and Weakness of the Aged is the Curi-cura Auti-Pain Piaster, the first and only pain-killing, Strengthening Plaster, New, Instantaneous and Infallible.

and coffee spoons are designed. Some of the duller reds, two or three deep blues, brown and crosm are the colors most frequently chosen, and the patterns are geometrical as a rule, though some beautiful flower sprays have been done.

Servant's Good Manners and Good Clothes Make Her Mistress Miserable.

| From the Chicago Mail. 1 A north side lady who was in search of an extra domestic-one above the average-found what she wanted. "I had been told," she said to me, "that the woman was of more than ordinary intelitgence, a cook who might be acceptable in the leadgence, a cook who might be acceptable in the leading cafe of the country, and, on the whole, one who was worth the munificent price which she asked—$6 a week. I have had so many trials that I concluded to break my hosband by engaging and paying this woman, for, after all, it is his fault that we have had so much trouble with the servants. The woman came, and after her there arrived three trunks of more than ordinary size. I said nothing. The woman soon showed that she was all that she had claimed to be. Scrupulously neat, attentive, even lady-like in her demeanor and the best cook I ever knew. Last Sunday I had occasion to go into her room, and she showed me a wardrobe which will challenge comparison with that of any society lady of my acquaintance, ther dresses are of the latest shades and patterns, and made to fit to the heart's content of the most fastilous woman, lier other articles of apparel are in keeping, and she has six hais and three bouncis. I have been miserable ever since this exhibit. The woman is respectful, polite, industrious—in fact a perfect servant. And yet she is a lady in her manner, and well dressed. Her wardrobe is all I have told you. I don't know what to do about it. I have no reason for discharging her—in fact, I don't want to; but I feel miserable to think that my servant is a lady, and that she has a better wardrobe than I have or any of my friends have. I look at her with a feeling of awe and am miserable." The lady who tells me this story is one of the swell circle on the north side, and her husband is a merchant on Michigan avenue. She is living a life of anxiety that is actually telling on her nerves. ing cafe of the country, and, on the whole, one

Prepared for the Worst.

[From Pack.]
Mrs. Grundy-How awfully that Tintall girl is Mrs. Sneerwell-Yes. She need never die o

Mrs. Grundy—I don't see why.

Mrs. Grundy—I don't see why.

Mrs. Succreell—She always carries enough flour to make a plate of rice cakes.

[From Harper's Basar.]
He-What will you have, dear, candy or ice-

She-No, Edward, get me some pop-corn, please.

Catarrh in the Head For 25 years I have been troubled with catarrh in the disease, consumption, are entirely removed by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which cures catarrh by purifying the blood;

Sarsaparilla, which cures catarrh by purifying the books;
It also tones up the system and greatly improves the general health. Try the "peculiar medicine."

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla cured melof cartarrh, soreness of the bronchial tubes and terrible headache." R. Ginnons, Hamilton, Ohio.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla cured melof cartarrh, soreness of the bronchial tubes and terrible headache." R. Ginnons, Hamilton, Ohio.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has helped me more for catarrh and impure blood than anything else I ever used." A.
Ball, Syracuse, N. Y.

proper method by which to cure catarrh is to purify the head, indigestion and general debility. I never had faith in such medicines, but concluded to try a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It did me so much good that I con tinued to use it till I have taken five bottles. My health has greatly improved, and I feel like a different woman." Mrs. J. B. Adams, 8 Richmond st., Newark, N. J. "Hood's Sarsaparilla cured mej of cartarrh, soreness

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. 100 DOSES ONE DOLLAR 100 DOSES ONE DOLLAR for him. Her youth had gone by without youth's pleasures. The girl of twenty was a woman of thirty now, and she was "wait-

He was upon a three years' cruise; not half-way through it. She had a letter, and a very tender one, from him at every opportunity. He thought himself very praiseworthy. As for poor Rose, it had become a settled thing in his mind that she would await his pleasure. I do not think he gave her much credit for that. Having assured himself of a woman's love, a man seldom attributes it to anything but his own high deserts, and accepts it as a tribute to his great merit. A beautiful woman, a lady in the highest sense, he knew her to be; any other, he believed, would not be worthy of him.

So he "waited" in his fashion abroad; and she "waited" in her fashion at home. And meanwhile there reached him at sea one day a great, black-scaled packet, that informed him that his maternal grandfather was dead at last—he had lived to be a hundred years old—and that Harry Hope was a rich man at last. was upon a three years' cruise; not halfold—and that Harry Hope was a rich man at last.

That night he paced the deck and thought of the future. He was rich now. There was no longer any excuse for delaying his marriage. Indeed, he had no wish for any. He was resolved to settle down at once on land, and retiring from the service, become a good citizen, with Rose for the lady of his house.

"I have at last a home worthy of you to offer," he wrote; and he meant it. He loved and honored his betrothed as much as it was in his nature to love and honor any woman.

SCALY, ITCHY SKIN A FEW OF THE GOOD THINGS

SUNDAY WORLD.

30 PAGES. THREE CENTS. 210 COLUMNS.

Mr. Barnum on Church and Circus.

Queer American Diplomats. The Oldest Scout in the West.

A Woman Land Leaguer's Experience in Tullamore Jat. Sunset Cox on Political Life.

The Cigarette Girls of New York.

Recipes for a Thanksgiving Dinner. Bill Nye as a Scientist.

Night-Hawk Cabmen of the Metropolis.

A Visit to Rosa Bonheur.

MAGAZINE AND NEWSPAPER COMBINED.

A WHOLE DAY'S READING FOR THREE CENTS.

[From the Nashville simerican.]
 You spoke of the advancement in science accomplished by amateurs, Mr. Schleier. In what " Well, take the sea, for instance. Apont all of the photographs taken in depths of the sea are by experimenting amateurs, and through them most marvelous hidden mysteries have been revealed." "How do they accomplish this, and how do they know what is being photographed?" asked the reporter.

'' Until the plate is seen they have not the slight-"Until the plate is seen they have not the slightest idea of what has been photographed. The operation, however, is simple. A box, hermetically scaled, with glass front, is sunk and to it is connected an electric light. At a certain depth light falls to penetrate the water and all is darkness. Sinking this device to a short distance of the bed the electric current is turned on, which illuminates everything within a certain radius, and at the same instant calls into sction the mechanism of the submerged camera. Often, to be sure, simost nothing appears upon the plate, but sometimes the instrument is lowered among most interesting formations of nature, and plotures are produced or incalculable value to science. These experiments are constantly being made, and are such that those connected with the art as myself cannot possibly connected with the art as myself cannot pos

She Wanted a Dam-Brod Pattern

[From the Boston Herald.] The Scotch name for the game of draughts to dam and the board upon, which it is played is called dam-brod. A Scotch lady of the old school being a dam-brod. A Scotch lady of the old school being in London wished to purchase a table-cloth of a checked pattern like the squares on a draught-board. She entered the shop and astonished the shopman by asking for table linen of a dam-brod pattern. He showed her some in very wide stripes, assuring her it was the very broadest pattern made. That would not do. She repeated she wanted a dam-brod pattern and that was not dam-brod at all. She left the shop, leaving the man astonished at her emphstic wording of her order, and she was equally surprised and indignant that he did not have in his store such a very common pattern of table linen.

A Slight Mistake.

[From Judgs.] Ethel has been spending her secustomed hour with her alphabet. Ethel-Ob, mamma ! I know nearly all of them and them and the second second

Natural Sequence. [From the Louisville Courter-Journal.]
Feminine pocket-books having become larger, masculine pocket-books must necessarily become smaller. Indeed, there are some alleged heads of families who have ceased to carry a pocket-book Already Secured.

[From the Philadelphia Call.]
Trust Company Agent—Thinking that you might want to secure your personal property. I desire to recommend—
Mr. Dusenberry—You are a little too late. The Sheriff has just secured it.

A Shrewd Scheme. [From the Mason Telegraph.] The cunningest of all California advertising schemes is the statement that the women out there talk less than anywhere in the world.

AMUSEMENTS. AMUSEMENTS.

METROPOLITAN OPERA-HOUSE.
Tuesday evening, Nov. 22, and Thursday, Nov. 24.
THE GERSTER CONCERTS.
THE GERSTER CONCERTS.
Mesers. Abbuy, Schoeffel & Grau beg respectfully to announce the first appearance in four years of MME. ETELKA GERSTER, secondary and the ETELKA GERSTER, secondary and the STELKA GERSTER, Frima Bonns Gentraler, THEODORE HANTERIES, Frima Bonns Contraler, THEODORE HANTERIES, Frima Bonns Contraler, THEODORE CARRONNE, Buffer, May 10 A. A. C. N. Bertsone; Sig CARRONNE, Buffer, May 10 A. C. N. Bertsone; Sig CARRONNE, Buffer, May 10 A. C. N. Bertsone; Sig CARRONNE, Buffer, Mes A. C. N. Bertsone; Sig CARRONNE, Buffer, Mes A. C. N. Bertsone; Sig CARRONNE, Buffer, Mes A. C. N. Bertsone; Sig Carron, Sig Carron

14TH STREET THEATRE—CORNER 6TH AVE.
Matinees Weineday and Saturday.
LAST WEEK OF
GEO, S. KNIGHT.
In Bronson Howard and David Belasco's new play,
MONDAY, Nov. 21.—DENMA THOMPSON.
THE OLD HOMESTEAD.

differently. If they had only kept her under

AMUSEMENTS. FH AVE. THEATRE.
Proprietor and Manager... Mr. JOHN STRTSON
LAST PERFORMANCE to night at 8 o'clock.

MRS. POTTER
in first presentation in America of

in first presentation in America of
SUPPORTED BY MR, KYRLE BELLEW
by courtery of Mr. Henry E. Abber, of Wallack's AND AMERICA STREET,
MCCAULT, UPPERA COMPANY,
Presenting the Hudon Comic Opera,
THE BEGUM.

HARRIGAN'S PARK THEATRE, EDWARD HARRIGAN. M. W. HANLEY

EDWARD HARRIGAN
IN CORDELIA'S ASPIRATIONS.
Dave Braham and his popular orabestra.
WEDNESDAY MATINES SATURDAY.
PETE, Nov. 22.

UNION SQUARE THEATRE, J. M. HILL, Manager

Robson and Crane THE HENRIETTA. DOCKSTADER'S.

BLACK FAUST. Splendid Scenery, Costumes, Singing and Electric THE GREAT FIRST PART, CLEVELIAND'S TRIP-Revived by Request, EVENINGS, 5.30. SATURDAY MATINES, 2.30.

H. R. JACOBS'S 3D AVE. THEATRE

PRICES:
10c.
Reserved Seats,
20c., 80c. and
50c.
THE WAGES OF SIN. 50c. Nov. 21—Benj. Maginley in INSHAVOGUE.

STAB THEATRE.

MR. HENRY IRVING.
MISS ELLEN TERRY.
To-night at 8 o'clock.

LOUIS

Week Beginning 21st November.
Every Evening (except hatarday) and Saturday Matthews)
FAUST.
Baturday Night, Nov. 26, THE BELLS and JINGLE.

CASINO, BROADWAY AND SOTH ST.
Evenings at 8. Matinee Saturday at 2.
The sparkling Comic Opera
THE MARQUIS
Received with roars of laughter.

MADISON SQUARE THEATRE.

Mr. A. M. PALMER
Begins at 6.30. Saturday Matines at 2.

THE MARTYR.

WITH A STRONG CAST.

WALLACK'S.
Evenings at 8.15, Matinee Saturday 2.18.
ROBERTSON'S COMEDY, SCHOOL.
SCHOOL.
WITH A STRONG COAST.
Characters by Mesers, John Gilbert
Comed Tearle, E. D. Ward, Y.
Flortt, Mrs. Iouise Ediridge, Ma TONY PASTOR'S THEATRE.

Howard Atheneum Specialty Co. EDEN MUSEE.

Concerts Daily. Admission to all, 500. A CADEMY OF MUSIC.

EVENINGS AT 8, MATINEE SATURDAY AT 1.

The Phenymenally Successful Melotrama. RESERVED SEATS, 50c., 75c. and $1.

BLOUDPERA HOUSE—BURLESQUE,
RICE'S
BURLESQUE COMPANY,
65 ARTISTS.

Eve's att (charp), Mat's Wed & Satata

G BAND OPERA-HOUSE.
G Reserved Seats, Orchestra Circle and Balcony, 50c.
This Afternoon, GANTON CADOL.
HICHARD III. Next Week-A PARLOR MATCH.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

PROF. CROMWELL'S FAMOUS LECTURE.
"AMERICA, OUR HOME."
'Admission, 25c. Reserved Seats, 25c. extra.

LYCHUM THRATEE.

MATINEE
THANSCIVING THE WIFE.

DAY.

POOLE'S THEATRE—8TH ST. AND 4TH AVE.
190., 90c., 30c., Matinees Mon. Wed., Thur., Sat.
DOMINICK MURRAY in RIGHT'S RIGHT, with Marvelious Mechanical and Scenic Rigota.
Neat Wesk—THE TUKET-OF-LEAVE MAN.

land. "You never mean anything by wha land. "You never mean anything by what you say,"

"Then you wouldn't believe me if I were to say I adored you?" said Harry.

"No. You're an engaged man. You adore some one else, or ought to."

"Oh, yes, I ought to," said Harry; "but we don't always do what we ought."

She slapped him. He caught her hand.

"Divine little hand!" he said; "perfection of a hand! I"—

"Gracious me!" cried Mrs. Ashland, in a frightened whisper.

His eyes followed the direction hers had taken. Rose had parted the curtains, and stepped forth. Mrs. Ashland hurried out.

"My darling Rose!" cried Harry.

She put out her hand to keep him off.
"Not your Rose," she said. "I do not belong to you. After all these years, you have let me hear enough to set me free."

"You ought not to judge so harshly. It was the broadest flirtation. Any other women would know that," cried Harry.

"It was very broad indeed, and we do not always do what we ought," said Rose, mildly." You are quite at liberty to adore Mrs. Ashland."

So she left him, and so the long engagement was broken off.

Ashland."
So she left him, and so the long engagement was broken off. Nothing could soften Rose, whose constancy had endured the severe trial of frequent absence and of long delay for ten good years. As cruel as though there had been no love in her, stern as one who hated could have been, she allowed no prayers for pardon, no interview of any kind, and she sent him back his letters and his ring.

differently. If they had only kept her under her own roof for twenty-four hours, even by some serious accident or illness, she might have blessed them. As it was, they made it rain, and she defied them and called a cab; then they deserted her.

When Rose arrived at the house Harry had already come. He was upstairs at his toilet. And there were other visitors in the house, among them a Mrs. Ashland, a young widow, and one of the most desperate fiirts in Christendom. She had kept up a constant correspondence with Harry and had always managed to have a fine flirtation with him when she came home, though of this Rose was quite ignorant. Rose's mother had some inkling of the matter, though.

"That Mrs. Ashland is here," she said.
"She invites herself very often, but I don't fancy her. It will be such a bore to Harry. We haven't told him you were coming. Let me hide you behind the parlor curtains and I'll send him in for something."

So, still in her walking costume and hat, the cid-lade tracked her friend away behind

So, still in her walking costume and hat, the old lady tucked her friend away behind the folds of lace and damask and hurried out the folds of lace and damask and hurried out of the room.

Rose stood concealed behind the window curtains, trembling with happy auticipation. She heard a step without, and the door opened. A figure entered. It was not Harry. It was a lady—Mrs. Ashland. She flung herself into an armchair and took an attiude. Ah, if only Rose had stepped out then: but she did not. Another step sounded in the hall. It was Harry's this time. He entered briskly and walked straight up to Mrs. Ashland and kissed ber.

Rose Leslie looked up

THE LONG ENGAGEMENT.

am upon the sea? It's

Seemed to her, in that sarly hour of her girlhood, that there was nothing to wait for, since he had told her that he loved her. She knew that whenever he had not here of the was quite safe from any matrimonial protects, made him a greater first than ever, the was quite safe from any matrimonial protects, made him a greater first than ever, the was quite safe from any matrimonial protects, made him a greater first than ever, the was quite safe from any matrimonial protects, made him a greater first than ever, the same of search would give be asked her to be his wife she would give be asked her to be his wife she would give be asked her to be his wife she would give be asked her to be his wife she would give be asked her to be his wife she would give be asked her to be his wife she would give be asked her to be his wife she would give be asked her to be his wife she would give be asked her to be his wife she would give be asked her to be his wife she would asked her to be his wife she would give be asked her to be his wife she would asked her to be his wife she would give be asked her to be his wife she would give be asked her to be his wife she would not were sain that he was not to the same that the was not her to say so. Her treed as to woman's conduct, what she might do, was a very strict that every strict that every the would not become and the same that he was not her to say so. Her the would not become and the same that he was not her to say so. Her the would come in which he should be a same that the law that he might do, was a very strict that the same that he was not her to say so. Her the would not become the the kisses when the same that he was